BLUE PEAKS DOUBLE D's

This is Blue Peaks Double D's third year to have a softball team!! Heather Parga has been the coach for the softball team. This has given the clients and employee's the opportunity to connect as individuals and to learn to work together as a team. Come out and show our team some support!! First game will be on May 16, 2016 in the evening. For a copy of the schedule call the Admin. office.

Person - Centered Thinking and Planning

Blue Peaks is committed to the proactive of person-centered thinking and planning (PCT). PCT is a philosophical and practical set of skills used to assist clients and their families in identifying and reaching their own goals, wishes and desires in all areas, including lifestyle, work, relationship, activities, and more.

Blue Peaks endorses the following values, principles and practices in all aspects of our work with clients and their families. We....

- * treat clients and families with dignity and respect;
- * help clients and their families become empowered to set and achieve their personal goals;
- * believe in the right of clients to make informed choices, and take responsibility for those choices and the risks associated with them;
- * build on client strengths, gifts, talents, skills, and contributions of those who know and care about the client;
- * help build connections in the community so individuals can develop relationships, learn, work and produce income, participate in community life, and achieve their full potential;
- * listen to and act on what the individual communicates;
- * are honest when balancing what is important to and for the person;
- * try to understand clients and how their age, gender, culture, ethnicity, belief system, social and income status, education, family, and other factors make them unique;
- * acknowledge and value families and support their efforts to assist the client;
- * recognize and support respectful partnerships among clients and others, their families, communities providers, and professionals;
- * advocate for public policy and practice that meet a client's needs and honors personal goals; and
- * endorse responsible stewardship of public resources to assure that clients are served fairly according to need.
